Just For Now, We're

Since its doors first opened in the fall of 1967, DeKalb High has been "Home of the Barons" to over 4775 students in grades nine through twelve. This school year, 1974-75, was the last year for it to house ninth graders. September of 1975 will see the freshman class attending the new DeKalb Junior High School.

This year DHS hosted a seris of "lasts." For example, the last freshman basketball tourney was held in January and the last freshman class officers were elected in September. Also, next year no freshman orientation meeting will be held and the freshman lockers may be assigned to someone else.

We will be fewer in number — with more elbow room — next year. Cafeteria lines may be shorter and an empty table may be easier to find in the commons. And "Battle Cry" will have one less spelling of V-I-C-T-O-R-Y.

In a different way, seniors also spent their last year at DHS this year. The class of "75" made its own unique contributions before taking their separate paths to the future.

But this year, though slightly crowded, we've learned about each other and our world as together we enjoyed life, studied, met, played, and made friends. So — whether freshman or senior or somewhere in between . . . JUST FOR NOW, WE'RE ALL TOGETHER.

What's Going On Around Here?

Changes, repairs, construction . . . all of these were visible in nearly all directions this year. To the north of our parking lot, construction progressed on a new junior high, to go into full use in the fall of 1975, housing grades 7-9.

To the south is the bikeway, built between DeKalb and Auburn with funds from private donations. The northern bikeway to Waterloo was to be completed later.

To the east and south a new drain was built in an effort to eliminate a standing-water problem each spring. To the west, the commercial arts class practiced their skills by repainting the football scoreboard.

Things rarely stay exactly the way they were. This truly can be said for DHS in 1975.

ABOVE AND LEFT: During most of the year workmen were busily putting the finishing touches on the new DeKalb Junior High School while the students in grade 7 and 8 anxiously waited in McIntosh and Ashley junior highs for the word that they could move in. Grade 9 will also attend the new facility, making DHS a three year high school in 1975. BELOW: Trucks also do their share of work around here, whether plowing snow or repairing a wind-damaged roof.

A new drain to get rid of standing water.

Placed strategically by Ma Bell, this telephone loyally waits in all kinds of weather to assist stranded Barons.

The front signboard advertised the last freshman basketball tourney held at DHS.

The regular duties of custodian Aelred Pfefferkorn include the daily raising of "Old Glory" on the front flagpole.

Exercise anyone? The new bikeway is for you!

Enjoy Life

"A Year to Forget . . .", "The Roar Of The Greasepaint, The Smell Of The Crowd . . ." "We Let It Happen . . ."

These are just a few of your typical (well, almost) Student Life cliches that are not only vague, but very deceptive. Shown only these over-used phrases, a student would firmly insist that it wasn't HIS school being described. After all, what WAS there to remember? Certainly not that 3-day suspension . . .

Pictures can also give false ideas about student life. Take, for example, the standard shot of a senior boy eating lunch with a look of COMPLETE disgust. The school's food is terrible, right? Wrong. He's disgusted because his friends went to Burger Chef and left him eating alone. Another picture seen in every yearbook is that of a beautiful girl at a basketball game, anxiously wringing her hands. She's not worried about the score. What she IS worried about is a date with that senior guard after the game.

Maybe for some, this wasn't a year that topped all others. Maybe you didn't get that date with the senior guard, or maybe the food really WAS pretty bad, but the fact remains that starting next year DeKalb Student Life will be very different. No longer will Freshmen clog up the restrooms on the first day of school, primping for their Grand Appearance. Everyone will get a seat for convocations, lunch lines will shorten, and pep session yells will drop a full octave.

Along with these obvious advantages come a couple of disadvantages. Student-sponsored activities will see a decline in attendance, and a lot of spirit and enthusiasm will move to the New Junior High School.

Nevertheless, good year or bad . . . Just For Now, We're All Together.

Fair attracts talented Barons

The annual DeKalb County Free Fall Fair was held during the last week of September.

Carla Baker and Natalie Link represented DeKalb in the Fair Queen Contest. Carla's talent presentation was twirling, while Natalie's was a dance routine. Their escorts for the parade were Chris Phillips and Nate Warstler respectively.

Mr. Jack Wagner of Auburn won the micro-wave oven raffled off by the Class of '76 in the Junior Booth.

Under New Management appeared in the Campus Life Mouse Hole.

Barons munch lunch.

Sandi Johnson wonders if it's true, "You are what you eat."

Lunch time proved to have more uses than just plain old eating. Barons took advantage of the time and used it to finish forgotten assignments, to cram for a test, or simply to talk with friends. Most of all, though, lunch time was enjoyed by everyone as a break from classes.

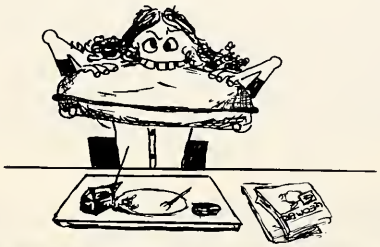
Just as there were different uses for lunch, there were also varying opinions of lunch:

Freshman: It's always pretty good.

Sophomore: It's superior to other schools.

Junior: It's not that bad, compared to a lot of other schools.

Senior: You have to eat too fast, and the atmosphere is unfriendly.



Mr. and Mrs. Walton discuss the morning's events over lunch.

Senior boys indulge in their favorite pastime, eating.

This year's Homecoming Weekend was highlighted by a parade of cars carrying the Homecoming Queen candidates and escorts, and by a football game in which the Mighty Barons beat the Concordia Cadets by a score of 41 to 20. Following the game that night an informal dance was held.

The semi-formal Homecoming dance, sponsored by the Senior Class, was held the following night on October 12th, in the commons. The theme was "It's a Small World," and music was provided by Rondo's Combo.

This year's Homecoming Queen is Julie Duncan, who was crowned by last year's queen, Rhonda Eldridge. Julie's escort was Eric Simanton. The other Senior attendants were Carla Baker, who was escorted by Fritz Cooper, and Natalie Link, escorted by Hal Easley.

The underclass attendants were Sabine Florreich, escorted by Dave Graber for the Junior Class, Rea Badman represented the Sophomore Class, and was escorted by Kerry Sibery, and the Freshman Class was represented by Jodi Middleton, whose escort was Brian Richards.

Music department presents

On November 15, 16, 17, the DeKalb Music Department presented "Guys and Dolls". This lively musical described the exciting world of Broadway, — of big and little shot gamblers and Salvation Army converters, of night club entertainers and a wide variety of jerks and eccentrics.

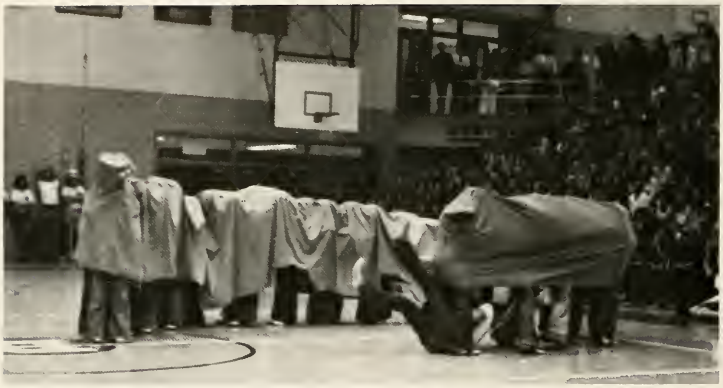
Baron spirit on the go



This big caterpillar, alias the Baronettes, helps to encourage spirit for another Baron victory.

Pep sessions, crazy hat day, powder-puff football, and 50's day are all a part of the Baron Spirit. This year, Barons also showed their spirit by putting up sectional hall decorations. The Seniors with their "Haunted Hall" won first place. The Juniors finished a close second with their "Good-Luck Gold Mine."

Cheerleaders, Baronettes, teachers, and the pep band, all helped to make this year's pep sessions especially memorable. No matter what the sport — football, basketball, gymnastics, or track, Barons always displayed the utmost spirit.

Among spirited "Crazy Hat" wearers were Nancy Webb and Kelly Harper.

Bill Wilson's "Fire'em Up, Coach" often helped raise Baron spirit.

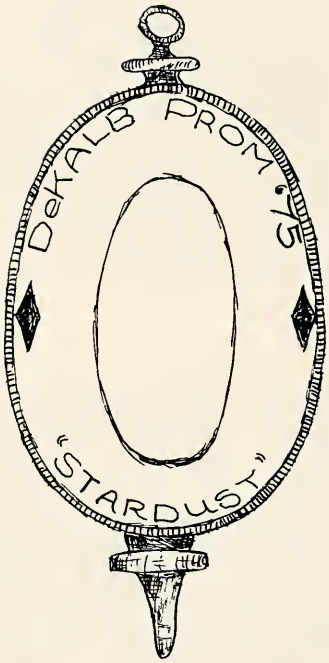
Prom 1975: Stardust



The atmosphere was one of candlelight and orchestra music. This year's 1975 Junior-Senior Prom was held amidst the antique cars at the ACD Museum on May 3rd. Music was provided by the Dick Seeger Orchestra.

After-prom activities consisted of a speakeasy at Burtis Dickman's bomb shelter, bowling at the Auburn Recreation Center and a breakfast sponsored by the Moose Lodge.

J.A. and Campus Life involve Barons in Many Barons are members of our local Junior Achievement program. The four companies and their sponsor firms are: Products Unlimited, sponsored by Rieke's; Warnco, sponsored by Warner Gear; High Voltage, sponsored by Cooper's; and Daco, sponsored by Dana. The companies are active in selling stock and making and selling products, by running their own junior businesses. Highlights of the year for J.A. are the Awards Banquet and the Trade Fair at Glenbrook Mall.

Members of Junior Achievement learn much about the business world and its actions through this organization.

Campus Life is also an active part of DeKalb High School. Meetings are held in the homes of interested students. The group's sponsors are Al Black and Linda Newnum, who hold in-depth discussions on topics concerning today's youth. But Campus Life isn't all serious talking. Several activities during the year, including a ski trip to Michigan, a volley-bowl, a man-hunt, and the Mousehole at the DeKalb Fair, provided much fun-filled excitement for Barons.

Seniors Shane Starr and Brad Outland discuss the need for Astroturf at Galileo High School.

The Thespian production of "You Were Born on a Rotten Day," was presented April 4th and 5th.

The setting of the play was Galileo High School, where a crisis over money for equipment prompts the appearance of noted scientist, Ptolemy. He informs the people of the community about the anxieties they should feel concerning their horoscopes.

The part of Claude Jones (Ptolemy) was played by Brad Outland. Supporting actors were Cathy Morr as Agatha Johnson, Susan Dickman as Principal Masters, Shane Starr as Coach Bart Bascom, Dave Maier as Councilman Banks, Dave Curtiss as Professor Huxley, Shelley Heffley as newspaper woman Connie Constellation, and Phyllis Fry as student teacher Yvonne Smith. Several other students portrayed pupils at Galileo High School and citizens of the community.

This year's annual Fine Arts Week was held at DHS during the week of May 11-16. It was started off with a concert by the Concert and Symphonic Bands on Sunday afternoon. Many freshmen then took the stage on Monday night, as the Freshman Band and choir were featured. On Tuesday night, the other choirs, including Concert, Chansonettes, and A Cappella, were the performers. To close out the week's activities, a new feature was added. On Thursday night, two one-act plays, "The Diary of Adam and Eve" and "The Lottery", were presented by the Thespians.

During the entire week, displays set up by many of the art students at DHS were open for viewing in the gymnasium. All of the projects revealed creativity and imagination, and were well enjoyed by those who saw them.

FIRST FIELD DAY —

Everybody wins!

Everyone who attended DHS's first "Field Day" came out a winner — in terms of fun. The overcast skies of May 16 saw a slightly diminished student body participating in the Student Council's first annual Field Day. The event fostered the spirits of both competition and cooperation among the students and faculty.

Homeroom teams competed in five events. The winners were as follows:

TUG OF WAR: Freshmen 108; Sophomores 211; Juniors 148-150; Seniors 226.

TANDEM RACE: Freshmen Joseph and Lawrence (127); Sophomores McMaken and McMaken (233); Juniors Grate and Gonzalez (218); Seniors Davidson and Butler (202).

THREE LEGGED RACE: Freshmen 103; Sophomores 240; Juniors 148-150; Seniors 222.

GIRLS WRIST WRESTLING: Freshmen Debbie Westrick (236); Sophomores Tammy Kemery (217); Juniors Tina Walker (238); Seniors Sabine Florreich (148-150).

BOYS WRIST WRESTLING: Freshmen Mark Reinig (224); Sophomores Sam Sewards (240); Juniors Roger Shull (237); Seniors Tom Simmons (226).

Meet

Meetings . . . Field Trips . . . Money-making Projects . . . Christmas Parties . . .

Being a member of a DeKalb High School organization involves many things. Extra hours outside school, leadership, added responsibilities, and just plain physical labor all go into making an active organization out of 20 or 30 students who all share a common interest. Because of these 4 factors, students at DHS can enjoy themselves under a controlled environment. Projects can be planned by the group and then accomplished usually without mass confusion and disorder.

This "controlled environment" helps us in two major areas, responsibility and cooperation. If your organization's advisor asks you to find a band for next week's after-game dance, by golly, you'd better find one. People are definitely NOT going to pay a dollar to come to a record hop and listen to Mr. Ford, who is moon-lighting as a disc jockey. If you volunteer to help at a home football game, you'd best be in that concession stand at half time.

Without cooperation between advisors and club members, and of course among the members themselves, no organization is able to accomplish anything. When a committee is appointed to make food for a party or banquet, it's ridiculous to argue about the oven that will be used.

Differences of opinion can be settled only by cooperation and compromise. Belonging to an organization should show this to faculty members and students alike.

community and DHS

Student Council officers, elected in the spring of 1974, attended a Student Leadership Institute in July at IU, where they, along with students from all over the midwest, studied ways of improving council procedures and effectiveness.

When school and football started, the Student Council organized a car caravan to the East Noble Jamboree to encourage Baron backing and spirit. It also sponsored a powder puff football game to promote spirit for the Garrett game. The money from a 10¢ admission charge went to the bikeway committee as a donation from DHS. Other Council projects were football and basketball programs and a gum clean-up day.

Student Council plans to continue in the future to represent DeKalb's student body in many different ways to the community.

National Honor Society this year participated in the college night program here at DHS in the fall. The members served as guides and introduced the representatives from the various colleges that attended. They helped make those visiting DeKalb feel welcome.

On May 7, 1975, 45 new members were inducted into the National Honor Society. Being chosen as a member is not only an honor but it is the result of years of hard work.

The members are chosen by the former membership and then a committee of teachers reviews the names submitted and decides by recognition of their leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

Members of the National Forensic League gain the experience and knowledge of speaking before large groups as well as getting practical experience in the procedures of debate. Members of the NFL take part in speech contests and get the opportunity to have actual debate competition.

This year Forensic League members participated in approximately twelve speech meets and debate meets. Speech meets included such solo events as poetry, humorous, drama, original oratory, and radio. They also saw action in many debate meets. The speech meets were held at various schools within the state.

There are no requirements for membership to the National Forensic League and membership is open to any student at DeKalb High School. Sponsor Mr. Lincoln Record encourages all students to join the very educational organization.

Their major production for the year was the all-school play, "You Were Born on a Rotten Day." Thespians received all money raised and used it to produce two one-act plays entitled "Adam and Eve" and "The Lottery." These were viewed by the public during Fine Arts Week.

Language banquet highlight of year

The purpose of language clubs here at D.H.S. is to enrich the knowledge and increase the interest of students for foreign countries through activities and field trips. The students in these clubs are required to have taken at least one year of that language or presently be taking a foreign language.

The three clubs were united at the foreign language banquet sponsored by German Club. Each club gave a short presentation about its country. The students from the different clubs brought Spanish, French, and German oriented foods for other members. The language banquet was enjoyed by all those that attended.

An abundance of food from the three nationalities was prepared for the language banquet.

German Club raised money last year by selling programs at ACD days, and by sponsoring an after game dance. The money gained was then used for a trip to the Heidelberg Inn in Huntington, In. and to German Town in Frankenmuth, Michigan.

French Club's members sponsored the Angola after-game dance and worked in the concession stand at a conference game to meet their budget. French Club visited Cafe Johnell which intriged interest for French culture in many of the members.

Electronic and Science clubs explore

The purpose of the Science Club is to promote interest in science and mathematics and to give what aid it can to scientific projects of its members. A small but important group, Science Club members learned of many new developments in the world of science.

Electronics Club is composed of students who have an interest in electronics, either as a hobby or as a vocation. Members investigated new electronic developments and worked with electronic equipment.

Both these clubs are relatively small, but yet they provide for a deeper look into their respective fields. They also enable students to have a better understanding of the world around them by opening up new doorways to their members.

Carolyn Kessler awaits the start of another Science Club meeting.

FFA prepares members for future

At one of their regular meetings, these FFA members listen to their guest speaker.

The Future Farmers is an organization for boys interested in agricultural pursuits. It is a national organization and its purpose is to teach boys how to keep good farm records. The group meets regularly, twice a month with the Chapter, and special committee meetings are called when needed. They also participate in athletics and other activities.

The young men of FFA participate in many different contests including soil, livestock, dairy and forestry judging. They had their annual banquet on April 29 to finish the year off.

The assortment of food kept the teachers coming back for more at the FEA-sponsored breakfast in November.

FEA — Involvement in education

A change of name from Future Teachers of America to Future Educators in Action was made at state and national level. The local club made the change too.

Their goals have changed from recruitment of quality high school people for the teaching profession to one of involvement in education.

One of the most popular projects for members is the Elfie program which is a way for students to express their regard and appreciation to faculty of DeKalb High.

A tradition of the Club has been to offer scholarships each year. This year two were presented on Award Day.

FHA held several projects this year including an after game dance, a trip to the county home, and their annual banquet in April. FHA also supported a welfare family at Christmas by collecting clothes, cans of food, toys, and other small articles.

Louise Drerup and Rhonda Parrish listen as plans are discussed.

FMC members broaden knowledge

Mary Woolever serves refreshments to Ginger Strite before the meeting begins.

The purpose of the Future Medical Careers Club is to bring together in high school young people interested in careers in medicine and health, and to share these interests. The members also explore the opportunities and requirements in these fields. The students through activities learn of the community around them and their medical needs.

Activities this year consisted of a Christmas party, a bake sale at Kroger's and the collection of canned goods for a needy family for Christmas. A physical therapist, a Registered Nurse, and Mrs. Charles Overmeyer were a few of the speakers that attended FMC meetings.

OEA members improve business skills

Membership in the Office Education Association is open to any student at DHS who has completed or is currently enrolled in a business related subject. The purpose of OEA is to develop competent, aggressive business leadership; to build up the confidence of young men and women in themselves and in their work; and to create more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations.

OEA members participated in regional and state competition this year. Such things as duplicating, taking shorthand and other basic business skills were tested.

President Nita Liberatore explains competition to Carolyn Kessler.

Tri-Hi-Y sponsors successful Christmas formal

The only Y.M.C.A. organization at DeKalb this year was Tri-Hi-Y. The club was made up of junior and senior girls. Meetings were held during homeroom to plan activities. A bake sale and egg sale were used to raise money. As a tradition Tri-Hi-Y again sponsored the Christmas Formal. "Stairway to Heaven" was the chosen theme and the club made a substantial profit.

Officers were chosen at the end of last year and Vicki Butler was selected as President. Lisa Voelkel was Vice President, Karen South was Treasurer and Elaine Delbecq was chosen as Secretary.

Because of the new junior high and freshmen not attending DeKalb High, Tri-Hi-Y will be expanding to include sophomores. This added number of members should enable Tri-Hi-Y to have an even better Christmas Formal next year and to have many more activities.

Travel Club seeks new adventures

These girls seem uninterested in the meeting.

Joining the list of organizations this year was the Travel Club. Sponsored by Miss Eisenhut and Mr. Moreland this club hopes to make many interesting and exciting journeys in the future. Due to lack of funds any major trips this year were impossible; however a trip to Cedar Point was taken in May. Most of this year was used for organizing and electing officers. Homeroom meetings were held in the auditorium with President Karolyn Mosshammer presiding. Other officers in Travel Club were Susan Abel, Vice President, Secretary Mary Beth Harvey, and Treasurer Kathy Muzzillo. These homeroom meetings were used mostly for discussion of possible trips for the future.

DeKalb Letter Clubs push for

With the growth of women's sports, the need for a club to recognize the importance of our own Lady Barons also grew. The Lady Baron Letter Club was then formed. Its purpose is to promote women's athletics at DeKalb and in the area. As a new club the Lady Barons used most of the year to organize themselves. Next year we can expect to see a lot of action from the Lady Baron Letter Club.

Concessions and a trip to Cincinnati highlighted last year's activities of Lettermen's Club. Concessions brought in over $2,000.00. The 11 most active workers received a free trip to see a Cincinnati Reds baseball game. All other members payed their own way. Qualifications for membership to Lettermen's is that each member must letter in one of the many sports offered at DeKalb.

FCA members learn good sportsmanship

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization open to any male student enrolled in DeKalb High School that takes an active interest in athletics. The purpose is to create a club where young men can join together in a Christian atmosphere.

Activities this year consisted of selling refreshments during ACD days, an overnight here at the school, and a summer conference to which the group sent several members. FCA taught the members teamwork and sportsmanship.

Managers have prosperous year

Vice President Brenda Schlosser enjoys the homeroom meetings.

Managers Club is an organization which is open to all present athletic managers and those students who intend to become a manager. Their goals are to learn the duties and responsibilities of a manager, basic first-aid skills, attend workshops, purchase small items for the training room and to promote the role of athletic manager in relationship to the coach, athlete, and school.

During the year Managers Club sponsored a football and basketball giveaway. They used the money which was raised by these ticket sales towards the purchase of a whirlpool for the locker room. Without managers to aid with the maintenance of our athletic equipment, DHS sports would not be the same.

DEKALB BARONS

Pep Club promotes spirit

With 100 members, Pep Club is one of the largest and most active clubs at DeKalb High. Practices are held once a week during homeroom in order to learn and improve all the cheers. Then on weekends along with the cheerleaders they help lead Baron fans and athletes on to victory. Pep Club's money making projects this year consisted of a 20¢ coat check which was available to all fans. They also sponsored a dance after the East Noble basketball game. Pep Club's goals this year were to promote spirit and set an example for all Barons. They not only achieved this but they showed DHS that spirit is very important.

Cheerleaders:

Pride . . . Enthusiasm . . . Devotion . . . Competition . . . Sportsmanship . . . Spirit . . . . . .

All this and much more are the makings of a good cheerleader. The 1974-75 cheerleading squads have proved to DHS that they have what it takes to be an outstanding group.

Leading our 12 cheerleaders were seniors Carla Baker, Vicki Butler, and captain Julie Duncan. Also there were Jan Ely, Kristy Lepley, and Lynda Lepley. In October the varsity squad competed in the Northeastern Indiana Cheerleading Competition and returned with a 1st place trophy, placing above a squad who was 9th in state.

Varsity cheerleaders also decorated locker rooms and lead pep sessions.

Leading the freshman teams this sports season were Lynn Lenhard. Bert Rinehart and Pam Thiele. The frosh cheerleaders strove for perfection and confidence in their first year as Barons. Coached and supported by Mrs. Judy Baker, DeKalb's cheerleading squads have truly shown the student body the meaning of school spirit.

Student Service is learning through doing

Student Service within D.H.S. is available in many different areas. Student Service is a willingness on the part of certain students to give to the school their time, their effort, abilities, and talents, in return for the experience, knowledge, and education which comes from this service. The workers learn loyalty, courtesy, honesty, and responsibility. They also learn promptness, obedience and how to be helpful to others. About 200 students are involved in this program each year and they donate over 30,000 hours. This averages to be around 25 students working each hour to assist with the daily operation of D.H.S.

Part of library assistant Dianne McAlpin's daily duties is to check on over due books.

A record is kept on each student who participates in the Student Service program. Students earn one point for each hour of service at school. If work is done after school hours a student receives two points. A student who earns 150 points receives a silver medal. A gold service medal is given to each student who earns 300 points. A student is awarded a trophy if he earns 450 points. These medals and trophies are awarded for meritorious work in the Student Service Program.

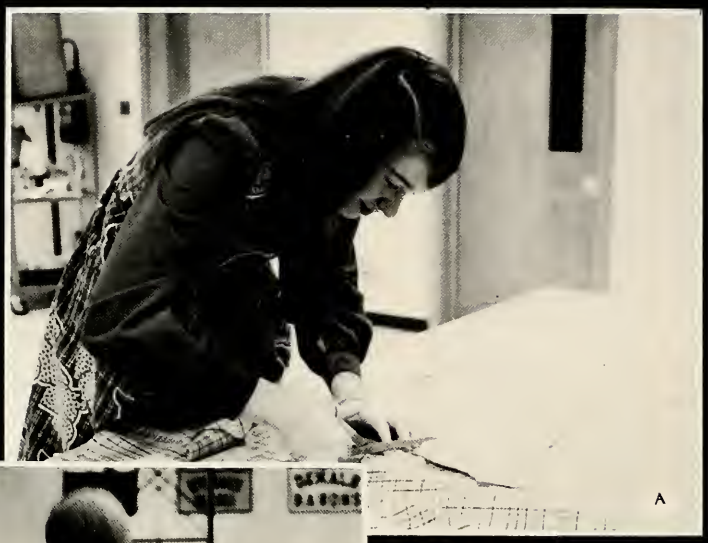
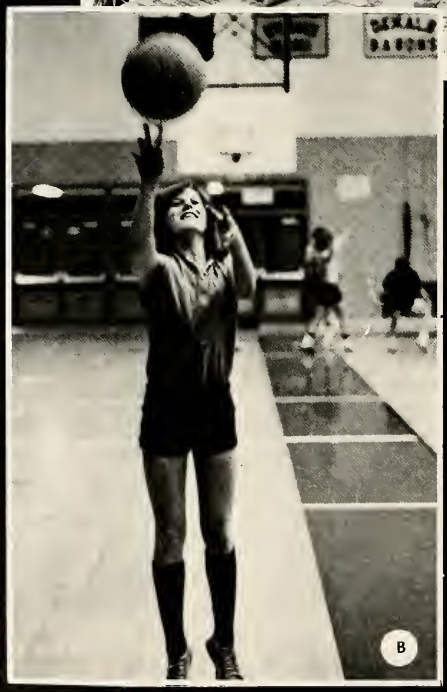
Just For Now, We...





Study

Academics . . . Education . . . Curriculum

Looking at those three words you immediately think, "What a grind! I'm not gonna ready anything in this section. I get enough of it in my textbooks."

But isn't academics what going to school is all about? We are here to pick the brains of the DEFINITELY older and most times wiser, and to use all of the facilities available to us to improve ourselves both mentally and physically.

Next year, DeKalb High School will have a three-year academic program, and students are going to find a considerable change in faculty and available facilities. Not only will the FRESHMEN move to the new Junior High building, but several faculty members will be spending some time there also. With the absence of well over three hundred people, classrooms at DeKalb will have more elbow room, and science students won't have to search for equipment that the freshmen broke or "borrowed." Physical Education teachers won't need to call as many hospitals, and Practical Math classes won't have to squeeze into room 103.

The curriculum itself will also take on a new look. New courses such as microbiology, service experience, and Gour-Gantic will provide a more specialized background for both vocational and college prep students.

With these changes in mind, we can truly say that "Just For Now, We're All Together."

Students develop skills in communications

Cameraman Jerry Reinoehl and announcers Carolyn Kessler and Susan Gaskill wake the Barons with the 9 AM report, "brought to you by the mass media class."

In the quest for a complete education, one of the most important tasks students try to accomplish is the mastering of good communication. This year the English department strove to insure this goal.

English, in the broad sense of the word, covers a wide area of subjects. DeKalb offers about everything a student needs from the required English 9 and 10, to Ideas in Literature, Journalism, and Mass Media. This gives each individual a choice of picking a class that suits his interests and abilities.

In Theatre Arts, students produced plays, while the Mass Media class produced the morning announcements. Literature classes were "fascinated" by Shakespeare and Henry David Thoreau, and composition students struggled to create "masterpieces" of formal research documents.

A new course offered was Journal-book, a class responsible for the production of the 1975 SABER. This class was established to enable the yearbook staff to devote more time in learning journalism techniques. Students in Ideas in Literature covered materials ranging from the Bible as literature to science fiction.

Foreign cultures, customs, studied by "Linguists"

Knowledge of the languages and cultures of our world is essential in communication and understanding between people. DeKalb helps make the world smaller by offering three foreign languages: French, Spanish and German. Latin was not offered this year, causing an increase in the enrollment of the other languages. German became especially popular and resulted in another addition to the language teaching staff. Dr. Leverenz was hired part time to assist Mr. Vick with the increased number of German classes. The popularity of German was also evident from the fact that four levels of that language were taught this year.

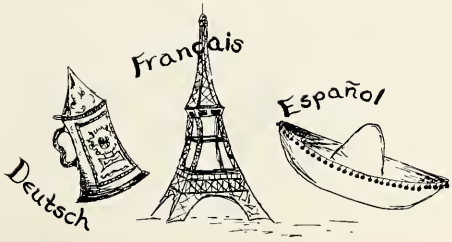
Peg Troyer daydreams through another French lesson.



Gary Rink is distracted in French class.

With the help of such aids as tape recordings, games, maps, movies, and simple dialogue sentences, language students began to speak as well as read and write in their respective tongues.

In addition to the study of the language, a study of geography and culture was also undertaken. The people, their customs, traditions, and holidays were discussed in attempts to give students an all around education in their respective languages.

Two levels of French and Spanish were taught this year. While conversation and oral activity were stressed in first year classes, more complex grammar was emphasized later.

As he listens to a history lesson, Don Muckenfuss eyes the girls.

The Social Studies program, containing a wide variety of courses, deals with the study of mankind through his history, environment, government, and behavior. Economics, government, and U.S. History, required of all students, are just a few of the courses offered.

Vast advances in civilization surveyed by world history students proved interesting, while the juniors concentrated on the various events which led to the building of our nation. Sociology students attempted to examine the problems of modern society, while looking back at other civilizations.

Government classes investigated the basic principles of our system, while the laws of supply and demand were studied by the economics classes. Econ students also learned by doing by "investing" $10,000 each in stocks of their choice to study the effect of current events on the economy.

By becoming more involved and aware of world governments and societies, we can better prepare ourselves for the future.

Science classes keep pace with modern ideas.

Strange odors and breaking glass characterized the science department, with students studying everything from the distillation of wood to laws of reflection.

Under the direction of Mr. Kruger, Mr. Crabill, and Mr. Murphy, freshman survey science classes studied laboratory methods and the separation of unknown substances by doing an annual favorite: the "sludge" lab.

The study of living organisms through dissection and microscopes proved to be an appealing method of learning biology to more than two hundred DeKalb students. Dissecting everything from worms to cats, they looked high and low for stomachs, hearts, and muscles.

While the biology students dissected frogs, the physical science students were frustrated by lectures, experiments, and lab reports.

Although science is often considered a "rough" subject, its unlimited boundaries of exploration continue to interest the minds of students.

Phil Shuman and Bill Wilson take a daily report of the weather in earth science.

Business and math classes enjoy . . .

Mathematics courses provided students with fundamentals that will be useful in the future study of such things as engineering and technology as well as in everyday life.

Among the math courses offered at DeKalb were business math, geometry, and algebra. For the college prep students there were algebra II and advanced math, which included trigonometry and analytical geometry.

In our rapidly changing technological society, each person's need for business education has become important. To meet this challenge, DHS offered a variety of classes to help students prepare for positions as business leaders and consumers. Accounting, salesmanship, and business law, in addition to the traditional typing and shorthand, were courses designed to meet the needs of future office personnel.

Art students discover new

DeKalb's Art Department offered courses for students with a general art interest and for those with interest in a specific area. More advanced classes were designed for those who may pursue a career in art.

Clay pots, decopaque, needlepoint, macrame, hooked rugs, and wood carvings were a few of the art projects students created during the year. Drawings and paintings ranged from still life to portraits of famous people. Photography was found to be another way of expressing art talent. Mr. Bartel, a new member of the department this year, introduced a now idea with his skill in metal jewelry making.

Several fine art projects were displayed in the halls, showcases, and in the commons throughout the year. This year's Fine Art's Week, held the week of May 11, was the best ever. Students put in a lot of time and hard work to make their show a success.

The goal of physical education is physical fitness. A wide variety of activities were offered this year to work toward that goal.

Bands develop musical talent

Concerts and contest were on the schedule again this year for both the Concert and Symphonic bands. An easy transition from marching season was made by a concert in November featuring favorite halftime performance songs. Other concerts were in March and during Fine Arts Week in May.

The NISBOVA Solo and Ensemble Contest in January meant long hours of practice to most band students but with it came the satisfaction of a job well done. DeKalb entered ten soloists and twenty-eight ensembles from the Concert and Symphonic bands in the area contest at Lakeland. Two soloists and four ensembles earned the right to compete at the state contest.

Rosy Shatto, Mark Parrish, and Bob Morr prepare for the next concert.

Donna Young, Sharon Seigel, Tammy Dulle, and Lori Quick placed second at the state contest.

Marching Barons put music on the move

The fine appearance of the Marching Barons as they approach the judges' stand was due to the many weeks of practice.

From summer practice thru the last halftime show, the Marching Barons showed spirit and enthusiasm. This, plus hard work, earned the Barons second place in the DeKalb fair grand finale parade. Other fine appearances were made during ACD Days and in the Defiance Halloween Parade.

Adding to the glamour of the Marching Barons were the baronettes and twirlers. Both groups attended camp at Tri State College and received several awards. Their winning talent, displayed in parades and halftime shows, helped make the marching season memorable.

The Marching Barons were under the leadership of drum majors Amy Williams and Jill Davis.

The DeKalb pep bands were at the heart of Baron spirit in 1975. They were seen at basketball games, pep sessions, gymnastics meets, and marching thru the halls during sectional week. Music played by the pep bands ranged from the school song to polkas played by the "German Five" and rock-and-roll played by the larger pep band. When Baron spirit needed a boost, the pep band was there with a "Chew em Up."

The Freshman Band and Choir were both the biggest of their kind at DeKalb this year. The choir, boasting 86 members made room 148 overflow; and 73 band members made room 150 echo with music.

Both groups kept busy this year preparing for several concerts and other activities scattered throughout the year. In the fall, the Freshman Band marched in the fair parades and participated in Band Night during football season. Several Freshmen music students also participated in the area solo and ensemble contest, bringing home many medals. The final performance of the band and choir was during Fine Arts Week in May.

With the absence of Freshmen here at D.H.S., the music concerts will no longer begin with the Freshmen. This year's Freshman Band and Choir were the last at DeKalb High.

Conglomeration, DeKalb's popular singing group, is made up of 25 Junior and Senior students along with several technicians who operate the extensive lighting and sound systems. With their first appearance at the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair, they were on their way to a very successful season, doing shows in high schools, rest homes, private schools, hamburger joints, churches, and even on the steps of the New Orleans City Hall.

Being in Conglomeration involved not just musical talent. Learning choreography, meeting city law officials after curfew, making up tests after a long road trip, and putting on your biggest smile when you're so tired that you can hardly stand up were some of the problems Conglom members had to cope with.

Tired or not, Conglomeration was received enthusiastically both here at DeKalb and on their road trips.

Concert Choir, Chansonettes, and Girls Glee spent the year singing for pleasure and performing in two major concerts; the Christmas Concert and during Fine Arts Week. Members of these choirs also had the opportunity to compete in the solo and ensemble contest. The Concert Choir was primarily Junior and Senior boys and girls. The Chansonettes were composed of sophomore girls, and Girls Glee contained Juniors and Seniors. Several Concert Choir members were in Swing Choir II, and 16 girls from Chansonettes also formed a special ensemble which made several appearances during the year.

Industrial arts students build toward their future

For those students who wish to enter industry after graduating, the industrial arts program of DeKalb provides basic training in several fields. Courses in drafting, woodworking, metals, and home arts offered specialized training in a number of skills.

In drafting, students found themselves confronted with the first step in construction, the designing and blue printing of various objects.

The main objective of the metals and woods classes was to introduce students to the tools, machinery, and finished products of an industrial environment. By first planning, and then constructing by established shop procedures, students were able to produce extremely useful finished goods for home use. In electricity classes, students were intrigued by circuitry and electric motor construction.

The knowledge gained by the industrial arts students took them a step further in becoming adept artisans.

For students looking toward a career in agriculture, D.H.S. offers Ag Mechanics and Ag Business. The course content included study of livestock production, soil and water conservation, machinery repair, farm grounds layout, and financial planning.

Graphic Arts was in its second year of operation. Students were taught concepts of design, printing, photography, layout, and typesetting in preparation for possible employment in the graphic art industry. Printing the BARON SHIELD, the INK SPOT, personalized scratch pads for teachers, and tickets for school functions were some of the class projects.

This year's Building Trades class completed the fourth house built in Auburn by D.H.S. students. Students were given the opportunity to broaden and use their skills in electricity, carpentry, plumbing, and other knowledge that goes into designing and building a home.

Students learn outside the classroom in Exploratory Teaching and ICE

Wishing to gain knowledge and experience in their chosen occupations, several DHS students participated in a program known as Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education. This program gave students a chance to learn by doing and earn wages at the same time. ICE students spent a portion of each school day at work in their various locations, ranging from the hospital to the sawmill. By being in school part time and on the job part time, students were able to both meet graduation requirements and work too.

Fourteen DeKalb seniors spent an average of six hours a week for twelve weeks observing and teaching in a classroom situation. Each morning, Monday thru Thursday, the students gained teaching experience at Waterloo and East Auburn Elementary. Collecting lunch money, making bulletin boards, grading tests, and telling stories were some of the jobs of the "rookie" teachers. The remaining weeks of the semester were spent at DeKalb preparing for and evaluating the students' teaching experience.

Struggle . . . Dedication . . . Concentration

The struggle for self-improvement and concentration involved in athletics is more than mere physical output. Dedication is the key element in setting goals, and then achieving them. Running six miles after school, practically starving to death in order to stay in your weight class, lifting weights for weeks before passing the "Pain, Torture, and Agony" test, and doing six routines on the parallel bars every night getting ready for the state meet are obstacles to be hurdled both physically and psychologically. To do this, the high school athlete must abtain a level of concentration consistent with a mature responsible adult. This is the reason why coaches and faculty of DeKalb can honestly say, "We build a foundation out of boys and girls, and end up being supported by men and women."

Next year DeKalb High School will lose a part of that basic foundation. The freshman class will move across the parking lot to the junior high. The effects won't be staggering, but a few changes will have to be made. Coaches of the various sports will have to decide upon the scheduling and use of the new and old facilities and some new intramural sports will be introduced at the junior high level.

Another change saw the growth of women's sports. This was shown by better attendance at games or meets, and the organization of a club for Lady Baron letter winners. The result of this increase in popularity will undoubtedly have a major effect on future DeKalb athletics.

Powerful Barons stun foes

The 1974 gridmen produced the best record of any football team in DeKalb's history. In addition to a sparkling 8-1 record, and the conference championship, 11 men placed on all-NEIAC teams.

Statistically DeKalb out-scored their opponents 273-84, maintaining an average of 31 points and 342 offensive yards per game.

The '74 machine provided thrills at every game: a glue-finger Kuhlhorst catch, a Fuzzy Phillips bomb, the Chalfant jitterbug, a breakthrough by Graber, and the crushing blocks and tackles seen at every game.

The pivotal point in the season came on Oct. 18, when the Barons traveled to Garrett in a battle of the undefeated. DeKalb down at the half came back to tie the score with less than a minute left, but the Railroaders emerged the victor in overtime.

The able coaching of Bill Moree and his staff, combined with spirited players, rigorous practices, and weight training, produced the outstanding 8-1 record.

Reserves work hard

As the gridiron reserves can testify, when you're working toward varsity you try harder, and try they did.

Twenty-five sophomores comprised the 1974 reserve football team. They went through tough practices supervised by Coach Dick McKean to develop the skills and stamina they needed throughout the season.

Offensively the men in red scored 128 total points for a 16 points per game average. The tight Baron defense gave up only 57 points for a 7.13 defensive average.

Defensive play was highly consistent. It was the key to the reserves' fine season.

The '74 record of 5 wins — 2 losses and 1 tie is one to be proud of. Coach McKean stated, "We had a real fine season and it was a pleasure to work with these young men and future Varsity Barons."

The Baron Freshmen gave an indication of things to come as they compiled a 4-3 record, thus producing the first winning season since 1971 for any freshman football team.

The team consisted of 34 hard-working, dedicated athletes. Playing stiff competition, the rookie gridders displayed good consistency and a winning attitude throughout the season.

Coach Greg Vick executed his training talents as he moulded the team in the fall of '74.

Being the last freshman class at DeKalb High School, they will be remembered as winners.

C.C. runs to state

After thousands of practice miles and an NEIAC championship, the 1974 cross country season culminated on a Saturday in Indianapolis. In the state meet, Dekalb finished 14th. They are the only Dekalb athletic team ever to participate in a state meet.

Led by Matt Grate, who broke numerous course records, the harriers finished the season with a brilliant 16-4 record. They captured their 4th NEIAC championship in 8 years and ran their all time record to 108-35.

Commenting on his team's success, Coach Niles Walton said, "I think they are number 1, determined; number 2, they believe in themselves, and most important, when they set a goal they are willing to work for it." Their goal from the beginning was to return to the state meet.

The Baron tennis team weathered a rough season this year with only four veterans returning. Under the supervision of Coach Rick Frary, the seventeen racketmen started practice in late August. Rigorous hours of training were spent perfecting fore-hands, back-hands, and various other moves.

Sectional introduced a new foremat for team play. Two single and double teams were compulsary in previous years. However, in '74 the teams had the option of any combinations as long as they entered three single players and two double teams. The Barons fell to defeat to a tough Harding team.

The team ended their season 2-7, but developed needed experience making next year's outlook bright.

Barons volley

The Baron varsity spikers showed both experience and composure in compiling a much improved 12-8 record. Daily practices involving volleyball fundamentals and a lot of hard work on the part of the girls paid off in a second place in the 1974 volleyball sectional held at Eastside.

"Rookie" coach Mrs. Carol Woody was pleased with the girls' performance of 1974, but was disappointed in the lack of good attendance and public support.

The reserve team, dominated by freshmen, could only manage a 2-4 record, but gained valued experience throughout the season.

The Barons have now proved themselves as a highly competitive volleyball team. Increased support from the student body and community will help them to continue to represent DeKalb athletics.

Chris Phillips shoots at the Elmhurst game.

The big red machine accounted for every one of its losses after Christmas this season at the foul line. In every losing effort they at least hit as many field goals as their opponents, but lost the game in freethrows. To add to the frustration the Barons came close to both the conference and sectional crowns.

Coach Wakenight felt that they were down defensively this year, but did improve as the season closed. And also that the guys rose above their abilities as they defeated two semi-state contenders, Columbia City and Fort Wayne Northside.

Jim Gafken was selected to the all-area team and all NEIAC first team. He led the team in scoring with a 19.4 clip, in rebounds with a total of 262, and in field goal percentage with 52 percent.

This year was the final year for the basketball team to be under the direction of Whitey Wakenight, the head coach. In leaving he said that he was proud he had coached at DeKalb the past five years.

Small Baron reserves finesse opponents

DeKalb's young basketball reserves battled hard and finished with a winning season with 11 wins and 9 losses.

The small reserves were outsized in the majority of their games but hustled to a 538 to 465 rebounding advantage for the season. They were led in rebounding by Don DeWitt with 126 and Lynn Duncan with 117.

As a team, the reserves averaged 47.7 points per game while giving up 44.2. Scoring was led by Don DeWitt with 277 points, while others scoring over 100 were: Lynn Duncan, 175; Ted Lash, 123; Keith Freed, 120; Jeff Seiss, 102, with Dana Post hitting 99.

Reserve coach Ken Workman along with Jim Reinking worked the boys diligently throughout the season. The many hard practices proved beneficial in their record.

Both being rookies, coach and players, they made a fine showing despite a losing season by averaging 40.4 points per game, while holding their opponents to 39.2 points per game.

Coach Rocky Pressler said that the boys gained some good experience this season. He hopes that they will utilize this experience in future years of basketball at DeKalb High School. Coach Pressler also added that he looks up to all the boys, literally.

In many ways it was a good season for the 1975 gymnastics team. With the experience of seven returning lettermen the boys recorded their first winning season in four years, received the highest team score of any Dekalb gymnastics team, came the closest ever to winning sectional, and sent six to the state meet in Indianapolis.

The season also had its disappointing moments. Among them, losing to Heritage by only .36 of a point, and having state-ranked Jeff Norris hurt his ankle in practice and miss the end of the season.

Those competing at state were seniors Eric Simanton in floor exercise, Greg Collins on side horse and high bar, Nathan Warstler on side horse, and juniors Terrry Houston on high bar, Don Muckenfuss on parallel bars, and Dennie Daniels as all around. Don Muckenfuss received a medal for tenth place on parallel bars and Greg Collins one for fourth on side horse.

The lady Barons experienced their longest season ever this year. The season started for them on November 1, and didn't end until the state meet on March 29.

Sabine Florreich tied for seventh at Indianapolis on the balance beam after she completed the season undefeated and received first place at sectional and regional.

Both Beginning Compulsory and Intermediate Compulsory teams ended the season with even 3-3 records. They were stronger throughout the season than any other previous school team.

The Optional team ended the season with 7 wins and 2 losses. According to the team coach Sylvia Taelman, "They were very strong, had depth, and scored the highest team scores the school has ever scored."

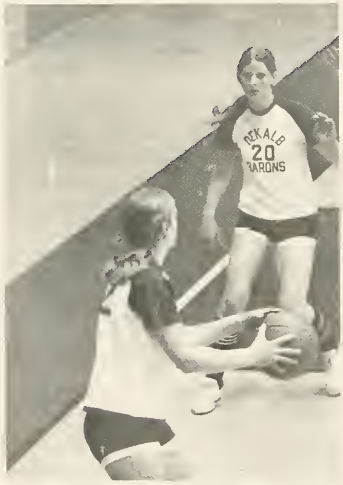
Girls Basketball ends with even season



Deb Cook tries to decide whether or not to pass off to Susie Days.

For the Lady Barons Basketball team, 1975 was a year of fulfillment. They finished their second year of IHSAA play at 8-8. Even though they failed to equal 1974's finish. they played with an intensity that is beginning to characterize girls athletics. This thought is echoed in Coach Dannaldson's remarks, "We were aggressive, got off a lot more shots than our opponents, and played a tight defense."

The reserve team, coached by Barb Herzer, filed an 8-4 record. The coach praised them for their vast improvement throughout the season.

The girls celebrated 1975 and looked forward to 1976 at an overnight held in the DHS gymnasium.

Cindermen pull together

Tom Leas adds another victory for the Barons.

The DeKalb 1975 track team pulled together to maintain the fine standing of past teams as it turned out a 5-3-1 record.

Forty-three members made up the varsity and reserve team. They began to practice in early February. For the first time DeKalb track participated in indoor track meets.

When DeKalb cindermen compete, they not only are striving to win, but they also try to break the various records in their particular event. This year track records at DHS were broken. Junior Matt Grate, our only state finalist running the two-mile, set the Cecil E. Young Field record with a 9:47.1. Matt also established a new conference record of 9:33.5 and a new school record with a sporting 9:31.1.

In the 440, Don Reed set a record high 51.4 Cecil E. Young Field record and went on to set a new school mark of 50.75.

The mile relay team of Don Reed, Dave Feller, Brad Middleton, and Gary Glick established a new school record at 3:29.2.

Finally, Carl Hansen set a new school record at sectional against very tough competition by pole vaulting 13 feet 10 ½ inches.

Newly appointed head coach Bill Moree did a fine job. With the assistance of Gene Crabill and Niles Walton, Coach Moree was able to get the team working together.

Baseballers rated 19th in State

Under the direction of Coach Bill Jones and his assistant Greg Vick, the Baron baseball team completed another fine season with a 22-9 regular season record.

Highlighting the season was the fact that the Barons were at one time rated nineteenth in the state as a result of their two victories over the power-house South Bend Clay team.

Coach Jones went over the one-hundred-victories mark this year and the team and batgirls celebrated with him by bringing and eating two cakes.

The team broke two records. They set a new high of twenty-two wins in a season and team home runs with twelve. Chris Phillips broke the record for the most victories in a season with eight against one loss. Eric Hinman was also outstanding in his seven and three won-loss record.

At the plate, Dave Leffler had a batting average of .303. Standout Chris Phillips helped his pitching at the plate by batting .340. Jim Park led the Barons in the power department with three home runs, while Phillips, Leffler, and Bob Heimach each had two round-trippers.

Reserves powerful at the plate

The 1975 Baron reserve baseball team began the season as a very inexperienced ball club. Despite this, the young Barons responded well to the challenge by pounding out 28 extra base hits and having a very good .335 batting average.

Sophomores Gary Baughman, Rod Gibson, and Lynn Duncan handled most of the pitching as they gained valuable experience for next year.

Outstanding contributions by freshmen this year included John Acton (BA . 333), Tony Sommers (BA .364), and Jeff Gipple, who led the team with 13 walks, 11 runs scored, and committed no errors while playing in every ball game.

Although young and inexperienced, this year's reserves had an exceptional season and contributed greatly to the total baseball program.

Major highlights of the season included 2 double-header sweep over South Bend Clay and Fairview, Ohio.

The reserve team, whose roster contained almost all freshmen, had a 3-1 finish.

Both the varsity and reserve teams were ably coached by Mrs. Jo Dannaldson.

Girl's track team takes 2nd in NEIAC

Under the direction of head coach Barbara Herzer and assistant Carol Woody the girls track team finished the season with a 9-2 record and took second place in the NEIAC. Sectional saw DeKalb qualify 13 girls for regional.

With only one senior, Lisa Walker, returning the team was young. But this didn't hinder the team for too long. As the season went on, individual performances improved. Evidence of this was seen by all the school records that were broken including, the 100 yard dash, 880 medley, 880 yard run, 440 yard relay, 220 yard dash, high jump, 880 yard relay, and the long jump.

Linda Rudolph was the only Baron to compete in both the regional and state meets. Linda took second at regional.

In his first year as golf coach, Mr. Pete Thompson helped the varsity Baron golfers record a 10-5-1 season. Most of their matches were decided at the last few holes as they lost three by a combined total of only ten strokes and won five matches by a total of only nine strokes. The team ended less than five strokes over or under their opponents ten times.

During spring vacation, the team went to Maggie Valley, North Carolina, where they did nothing but golf in order to get in practice for the coming season. The practice paid off, as they then started their season by out-swinging their opponents in six straight matches before being defeated.

Are Friends

Friends . . . Respect . . . Cooperation . . .

Friends . . . probably the most important word to any human being today. People need other people. DHS is a very good example of this. Without friends, who's gonna skip out of 4th hour econ class with you and go to McDonald's? Who's gonna save that front row seat at sectional for you? Most of all, who's gonna listen to you when you feel like talking?

Respect . . . "I get no respect . . ." Rodney Dangerfield's well-known line seems to be very relevant today. To achieve a controlled classroom situation, there must be respect BY every person in that room FOR every person. There must be more than merely student respect for faculty and faculty respect for students. Student respect for other students and teacher respect for other teachers are also needed.

Cooperation . . . This has been lacking here at DHS, especially between seniors and underclassmen. If a senior wishes to move to the head of the lunch line, the underclassman should cooperate. If an underclassman thinks he should be able to sit in the front row at a basketball game and a senior disagrees, that underclassman should cooperate. Next year, however, with the freshmen at the junior high, there will not be as much of this kind of cooperation, so it's a good thing that . . . "Just for Now, We're All Together."

Just For Now, We Are . . .

AFS adds to international understanding

Increased understanding among the world's people is one of the goals of the American Field Service. Our only AFS student this year was Christina Fischer of Krems, Austria. Tina was a member of the Dr. John Harvey family in Auburn during her stay in the US.

Tina adjusted well to our customs and language. She was especially impressed with the informal atmosphere at DHS and her favorite American food was hamburger.

Eric Outland returned to DHS in January after spending a year in Santa Cruz, Bolivia. Eric finished his final semester at DeKalb and graduated with the class of '75.

Graduation 1975: A time

On Sunday, May 25, 1975, 285 seniors took part in the eighth graduation ceremony held at DHS. The boys wore black robes, while the girls wore red and carried white carnations, the class flower.

Speeches were given by Susan Dickman, Invocation; Janelle Honaker, Welcome; Dave Watson, Intention; Greg Collins, Farewell; and Carolyn Kessler, Benediction. Diplomas were awarded by Superintendent Watson and Board President Keith Showalter.

Dave Watson brought thoughts of the future to the senior class with his speech on Intention.

The administration awaits the presence of the graduating class.

Janelle Honaker welcomes a near capacity crowd.

for happiness and memories

Cindy Goen and Shelley Harvey assist their class in singing the class song; "Tomorrow's Going To Be A Fresh New Day."

An air of solemnness falls over the gymnasium as Greg Collins gives the Farewell speech.

At the end of the graduation ceremony, Elaine Delbecq and Kip Baird take part in the Recessional.

Together for the last time, the Class of 1975 changes their tassels, signifying that they have officially graduated.

The 1975 SABER staff says a very sincere thank you to:

MRS. KAY FINCHUM, without her patience and long hours of hard work the SABER would have gone under last October.

MR. KELSO DAVIS, his promptness in film processing and willingness to come out to DeKalb for group pictures without notice was a great help to the entire staff.

MR. STEVEN TEEPLE and MR. ROBERT BREMER-KAMP, for their special photography.
